tricate drill numbers, as well as some first aid demonstrations.

The Girl Scouts held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the Gold and Broadway Church of Christ and practiced drilling.

Prizes were awarded to several Girl Scouts who had entries in the exhibits at the state fair. The Thomas won several prizes for her chicken, and Elma Trammel, eleven years old, was awarded five premiums on fancy work. One on her collection, first and second prize on a beautiful butterfly, and two prizes on an artistic table scarf.

Thursday afternoon Miss Julia Lee and Miss Lou Lee, 503 West Capitol avenue, entertained at tables of auction. Beautiful cut prices of Pickard china were awarded to Mrs. Noa Hild and to Mrs. J. T. McLaughlin.

The reception hall was decorated with yellow neotulips and autumn leaves. In the parlors were white chrysanthemums and the broom foliage and red berries if the purple dahlias was particularly attractive.

Late in the afternoon an elaborate and delicious lunch was served.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Margaret Jenks gave an informal afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Kathryn Carson of Oakland, California. Sewing, chatting and delightful refreshments passed the time most pleasantly. Miss Carson returned Thursday evening to Oakland.

Thursday evening Miss Gladys Mandell gave an informal dinner at the Colono hall in honor of her guest Miss Merkle of El Paso. About ten couples were present and a particularly jolly time was enjoyed.

Mrs. G. S. McLandress entertained Thursday afternoon. Her honor guest was her sister, Mrs. R. H. Sims, of Las Cruces, who is visiting at the McLandress home for two or three weeks.

Auction bridge, followed by a delicious lunch, made the affair most delightful. A particularly enjoyable feature of the afternoon was the solo by Mrs. Frederick Winn.

The guests were Mrs. R. H. Sims, Mrs. Ross Merritt, Mrs. Frank Tull, Mrs. J. A. Reid, Mrs. Frederick Winn, Mrs. Roy McDonald, Mrs. L. C. Bennett, Mrs. Allen S. Peck, Mrs. A. Frost, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. Roy Stamm, and Mrs. Harry Weiler.

Mrs. Robert Smart gave a luncheon Monday noon in honor of Mrs. Chas. Spies of Las Vegas, and Mrs. E. Bailey of New York. The club was very successful and the menu was delicious.

The guests were Mrs. Chas. Spies, Mrs. E. Bailey, Mrs. Alfred Grunfeld, Mrs. Joe Grunfeld, Mrs. Noa Hild, Mrs. Sadie Neundt, and Miss Minnie Holman.

VALCK-WILSON ORCHESTRA.
The Valck-Wilson orchestra has ambitious plans for the winter, rehearsals are enthusiastic, and under the skilled direction of Miss Valck great progress is being made. A number of new selections are being practiced, making the repertoire unusually large for an organization of young people.

The orchestra will give a musical evening in the fair future, and a splendid program is being planned for it.

The personnel of the orchestra follows: First violin, Cecelia Spaulding; Grace Smith, Edna Kieck, Grace McKee, and Arthur Becker; second violin, Chester and Ralph Miller; cornet, Donald Wilson; trombone, Earl Porterfield; drums, George Flinn; piano, Louise Lowber; director, Miss Estelle Valck; manager, Mrs. John W. Wilson.

The Valck-Wilson orchestra is open for engagements at receptions, teas, and other social functions.

LA BOHEME RECITAL.
The following extract from the Santa Fe New Mexican Saturday October 11 will be of great interest to those who are familiar with Mrs. Winn's magnificent voice:

"The Federation of Women's clubs on Thursday afternoon featured an interpretative recital of La Boheme by Madame Ada Pierce-Wynn of Albuquerque assisted at the piano by Mrs. Van Stone of Santa Fe. This proved to be a rare treat, every moment of it pleasant and instructive. The recital was given at the Scottish Rite cathedral by the courtesy of the music study class of the Santa Fe Woman's club, and was well attended by visiting and local club women and their friends.

The guest artist, Mrs. Winn, has had unusual advantages in musical education both at home and abroad. In Paris she studied for three years, and was coached by the great Italian composer, Puccini, in his masterpiece, La Boheme, she was eminently well fitted to interpret it.

Mrs. Winn prefaced the interpretation of the opera by a brief sketch of the composer, Giacomo Puccini, an Italian, born in 1858 in Lucca. He was the fifth child of a large family.

and it was his good mother's desire that he become a musician. He began as an organist, and later through assistance from the crowned head was enabled to enter the Conservatory of Music at Milan.

Mrs. Winn gave charming word pictures of the four acts of the opera, and related the pathetic story of the little Bohemian girl, Mimì, around whom the opera centers. Her rendition of the aria "Mi Chiamano Mimì" showed her to be a past master in the interpretation of this kind of music.

The introduction, the delightful Nocturne waltz, and various themes were exquisitely played by Mrs. Van Stone.

The last act of the opera relates to the death of Mimì, and to the use of Mrs. Winn's words, "the curtain falls on one of the most simple, beautiful and touching, the most intimate of modern operas."

Mrs. Winn in the Tinsel Melodrama.
Mrs. Winn has successfully appeared before Santa Feans in the past, but never has she so captivated her audience as in the Tinsel Melodrama, which she presented last Thursday evening. Fascinating, charming in her beautiful Indian maiden costume, she sang the songs founded on tribal melodies with such finished art, such exquisite diction, that the great cathedral rang with enthusiastic applause. She held the audience spellbound with the magic of her magnificent voice and wonderful personality.

Choral Society.
Musicians of Albuquerque are making plans for the organizing of a permanent choral or singing society. The first meeting will be held at the Guild hall next to the Episcopal church on Fourth street, Tuesday evening, October 21, at 7:45 o'clock. All those who are interested are cordially invited to attend. It will be the purpose of this meeting to elect the various committees necessary for the carrying on of this work.

It has long been regretted that Albuquerque, having such a galaxy of talent, has not combined its talent into one large body, and now the co-operation of every singer in town is earnestly solicited.

The society is exceptionally fortunate in having secured Chas. Anderson as director and E. Stanley Feder as accompanist. Mr. Anderson has drilled a number of choruses here and has proved himself a director of great ability. His voice is well known here, both as pianist and organist, and all who have heard him play recognize his wonderful talent.

Between fifty and sixty singers have already promised attendance at this first meeting and it is asked that those whom the organizers have not yet contacted, should be present. They will attend the meeting next Tuesday.

Let us work for a chorus of one hundred voices.

It may be of interest to mention that Dr. David R. Boyd, president of the University of New Mexico, is an enthusiastic supporter of this movement, together with several influential citizens and business men of this city.

Y. W. C. A.
The Business Girls' club met Thursday evening. During the hour of new sessions they decided to call themselves "Las Amigas."

Miss Verna Vesting spoke of the Riddick lecture course which the Woman's club is bringing here this winter, after which several musical numbers by Miss Olga Selke and Miss Paula Postel were enjoyed. Games and a general good time followed.

The Choral club will meet Monday evening at 7:30. There are twelve members at present but it is hoped to enlarge the membership to twenty-five in the near future.

The first session of the Spanish class will take place Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. J. H. Heald will be the instructor. Her experience and success in this work insures success to the class.

The membership committee, Miss Ida Elder, chairman, will be at home October 28, from 4 until 6 o'clock.

CHURCH NEWS.
The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. C. Flournoy and began plans for a bazaar to be held December 4, 5 and 6, somewhere in the business section of town. The exact location has not been determined at present.

Elaborate preparations are being made for a number of "booths" for the winter work. Home-made refreshments, etc. Arrangements will be made to serve coffee, cake, ice cream and other good things to eat during the noon hour. That these two men may get their lunch there. The ladies of the Congregational church have a reputation throughout Albuquerque for their good things which they cook, so the opportunity to get lunch at the bazaar will be a great drawing card.

The Rector's Aid of St. John's Episcopal church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Warren and enjoyed a delightful meeting.

The Queen Esther club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George Abel, 24 North Eighth street. An important business meeting was held followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served.

St. John's Guild met on Monday with Mrs. E. L. Bradford and concluded the business session. He the dance in Masonic Temple Tuesday evening of fair week. The dance was a great success financially as well as socially. Plans for work through the winter were discussed and light refreshments enjoyed.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church met Thursday afternoon in the church parlors.

This is the last week at the Congregational church. Wednesday evening was prayer meeting. Friday evening a most enjoyable social, and tomorrow is fully day for all the church societies.

WOMAN'S CLUB GIVES LECTURE COURSE.
The Redpath Lyceum entertainments will be given here this winter under the auspices of the Woman's club, the club itself guaranteeing payment of expenses if a sufficient number of tickets are not sold.

The first entertainment will take place next Friday evening, October 24, at the Elks' theater, and during the past it has proved to be the most popular of any number on the circuit. It appeals especially to men because it is scientific.

Montra Villa Wood, one of America's foremost scientists, will give a demonstration lecture with a gyroscope, the mono-rail and the ultra-violet ray.

The gyroscope is an instrument used to demonstrate the laws of force governing rotating bodies. The instrument which Professor Wood will use, weighs twenty-four pounds, is twenty-eight inches in diameter, and has three thousand revolutions a minute. One demonstration with this machine is a thrilling match, so far as men have been found in any audience who can endure the gyroscope.

In another demonstration Professor Wood places the instrument at an angle of forty-five degrees, and it automatically lifts itself and goes on with its revolutions.

Professor Wood has with him a miniature car with gyroscope attachment, called by the inventor a gyro-car, which travels on a single rail and is kept erect by the rotary force of two gyroscopes in rapid opposite motion, which he will show over the audience on a mono-rail.

Professor Wood's young daughter travels with him. She is called the "Tamer of Electricity" and will give several remarkable demonstrations.

It is in the evening current, bolts it to twenty-five thousand volts, writes with it and plays with it as though it were a toy.

Montra Villa Wood is an inventor of great ability. Several years ago he invented the two-button switch with which we are all so familiar, and he has recently perfected a lighting globe for a gyroscope which gives the instrument a new significance in its plane of rotation automatically.

Professor Wood is the only aeroblast in America who carries mail by aeroplane in Chicago.

The second entertainment will be either in the latter part of November or the first part of December. It is hoped that Chas. Clark, who lectured upon that occasion, but if he is unable to come, Ex-Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, Woods Hutchinson or Dr. Conant is promised to us.

The third number in the January-Dixie quintette, the personnel is Williams of the famous singing and dancing team, Williams and Walker, Johnnie Gooding and Tina, the most celebrated base of the club's face. The fifth man is the pianist and director. This quintette was organized and coached by Harry Dunlap, formerly of Dunlap Brothers quartette.

The last entertainment will be March 29, a big musical comedy, "The Four Aces." The personnel is Reuter, German violinist, Kieck, a German baritone who sang with the Berlin Grand Opera company for several seasons; Madame Hope, Mezzosoprano; Arthur Sisk, Gordon Gase, William McClurken, Chester Lee, Bill Arnot, Lester Hild, and Lester Cooper.

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made Her a Well Woman.

Chippewa Falls, Wis.—"I have always had great confidence in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I found it very good for organic troubles and recommended it highly. I had displacement, backache and pains when standing on my feet for any length of time, when I began to take the medicine, but I am in fine health now. If I ever have these troubles again I will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Ed. Pearson, 216 High St., Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin.

Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had organic displacement and bearing down pains and backache and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. Anna Lawrence, 125 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I. expect to take an extended trip through California, spending some time in San Francisco at the Park Hotel, and visiting Mr. Hunter's parents at Del Rey. They will reside in Bakersfield, where Mr. Hunter has just built a charming bungalow for his bride.

This evening Mr. Bertram Hunter, Miss Margaret Cartwright and Mr. Hunter's two sisters, Miss Edith and Olive Hunter, will be entertained at dinner at the Sigma Tau house. Elaborate plans are being made for a delightful time through the evening. Mr. Hunter is a popular member of the Sigma Tau fraternity.
